E.Go S.r.l. is an Italian company based in Florence and specialized in the construction of automatic lines to produce electric motors founded in 2010 by Marco Santandrea.

It opened its capital to the entry of a new strategic partner, VBS s.r.l. of Reggio Emilia (Italy), an investment holding company of Vittorio Cavarani, co-founder and ex- partner of Elettric 80, with a long entrepreneurial experience in the world of mechanical automation.

Through a mixed transaction of capital increase and share purchase, VBS acquired 60% of E.Go, while founder Marco Santandrea will continue to hold 40% and lead the company as CEO.

With this transaction, E.Go strengthens its industrial capacity, thanks to the contribution of skills, experience and capital from VBS.

E.Go and VBS were assisted as financial advisor by the Mid Cap Advisory team of EQUITA – the Italian partner of Clairfield International, with a team composed by Giuseppe R. Grasso and Mario F. Grasso.

For the legal aspects, E.Go and VBS were assisted by Alberto Calvi di Coenzo of Avvocatidiimpresa, while Marco Santandrea was assisted by Gabriele Tremolanti of Tremolanti Studio Legale.
